On behalf of ADEMSEA, The Music Student Association, I would like to formally express my gratitude and extend congratulations to everyone who has participated in making the School of Music's first Undergraduate Journal a success. I am thrilled to have been able to provide this incredible opportunity for publication to the undergraduate students in the Music Department, with the help of ADEMSEA. In addition, I believe this journal has created an outlet for student expression and a standard of academic excellence for the years to come. I would like to thank all the students who submitted their work to be included in the journal. I would like to give a special thanks to Dr. Paul Merkley for taking the time to write an Introduction which contextualizes the development of journal's various topics. Finally, I would like to give my sincerest gratitude to the editing and writing team for their fantastic cooperation throughout this project. Without their interest and dedication this project would have never been possible. I hope you all enjoy the fantastic assemblage of essays within this journal and I look forward to Volume II.

Sincerely,

Matthew Timmermans
Vice-President Anglophone of ADEMSEA
